summary

My name is Angelina, and I am a passion-driven Communication and Creative Industries student at Western Sydney University who thrives in people-focused environments and takes immense pride in fostering genuine connection, collaboration, and purpose. Overall, I am particularly interested in the pursuit of opportunities within public relations, corporate communications, digital marketing, and the creative industries where I can voice fresh ideas, share unique perspectives, and create highly impactful audience experiences.

experience

Affinity Education Group

Early Childhood Educator

(2022 - 2024) Blaxland, New South Wales, Australia

As an Early Childcare Educator, I provided highly attentive care, guidance, and daily mentorship to children within a secure, structured, and inclusive learning environment. My day-to-day responsibilities involved managing play-based educational routines, supporting positive behavioral growth, and nurturing the emotional well-being of individuals under my supervision. This role heavily sharpened my interpersonal communication skills and required high-responsibility management, as I regularly collaborated with families to maintain trust and ensure strict adherence to safety and health regulations.

Bras N Things

Retail Sales Assistant

(2019 - 2020) Penrith, New South Wales, Australia

During my time in the retail environment, I delivered friendly, personalized customer service built on a foundation of approachability, active listening, and strong product knowledge. I focused on premium brand representation and day-to-day store presentation, ensuring the visual merchandising and retail operations aligned with corporate standards. This role allowed me to discover my passion for connecting with a wide range of people, building positive relationships through strong customer relationship management (CRM), and working seamlessly within a team to meet targets.

education

Western Sydney University

Diploma, Creative Industries and Communication

(March 2026) Penrith, New South Wales, Australia

My studies explore communication theory, media dynamics, and digital communication practices with a heavy emphasis on creative problem-solving and audience engagement. This chosen field directly showcases my strengths in public speaking, strategic media planning, and cross-team collaboration. I am deeply passionate about voicing fresh ideas, sharing unique perspectives, and contributing positively to dynamic, creative environments.

Penrith Anglican College

Higher School Certificate (HSC)

(2019 - 2022) Orchard Hills, New South Wales, Australia

At Penrith Anglican College, I consistently thrived in collaborative, encouraging environments and naturally gravitated toward group work and shared visual projects. Discovering my passion for contributing ideas and working closely with peers to achieve common goals heavily shaped my professional drive and communication-focused career aspirations.

Caroline Chishlom College

Principal's Award (2x Recipient)

(2017 - 2018) Glenmore Park, New South Wales, Australia

My time at Caroline College supported my personal growth in confidence, responsibility, and effective collaboration with others. I also developed foundational skills in communication, organisation, and teamwork.
